

e consumed. The total loss is estimated at $1600. a Owing partly to the shabby manner in which n the contractors did their duty, the Advertiser n says that the Powhatan and Crawley's Ridge a Turnpike was materially damaged by the late l rises in Black river. The article concludes in t this wise:
e One of the contractors proposes to do up his r work again at his own expense, provided the a contractors on the first, second and third sections l will complete their contracts according to the l plan laid down on the books of the company. d This is fair and honorable, as he has long since l had his contract received by the company, and l it would involve an expenditure of some one or l two hundred dollars.
l The prospects of this road are bright, and it is l doing as well or better than other enterprises, l and will be able to withstand the late pressure l in money matters. All enterprises of this mag-l nitude are expected to have their reverses, and l hard rows to weed, but the present company l are determined to complete their undertaking, l sooner or later, and when once completed, the l fruits will then and not until then be plainly l discernable.
